

PERFORMING ARTS STREET TEAM AMBASSADORS WANTED

theatreMAMA is hiring a theatrical street team of ambassadors for upcoming activations to promote shows, brands, and events. Our upcoming creative project will be a city-wide activation for one of Cirque du Soleil's newest productions.

Street Team Ambassadors will creatively and theatrically promote brands by engaging patrons out on the streets, at private events, and sparking curiosity through guerilla-styled stunts. As part of the team, you will utilize your own unique personal talent to draw in crowds and distribute collateral at designated high-traffic areas and events.

MAMA's Street Team Department has successfully operated in New York City and around the US for 13+ years, representing major Broadway productions and national brands. We are expanding out into the West Coast market and are building a strong database of highly talented performers to join our quickly growing family.
