

ATTENTION CHORAL SINGERS!

The San Fernando Valley Master Chorale is holding auditions both for soloists and ensemble members by appointment on Sunday January 8, 5-8 pm, and Monday January 9, 3-6 pm. We are looking for sopranos, altos, tenors, basses and a baritone soloist. Auditions will be held at the First United Methodist Church, 5650 Shoup Ave., Woodland Hills.

Call Joane at 818-335-2685 to schedule an appointment.

Please bring one selection of your choice. Opera, oratorio, art song, or musical theatre is preferred, in that order of preference. Also expect simple sight-reading, tonal memory and ensemble singing. For more details, see sfvmc.com/audition. The Chorale rehearses on Monday nights in Woodland Hills.

Celebrating over 25 years of excellence, the Chorale is very proud to announce the April 2, 2017 world premiere of "Moses, an Oratorio" by their composer-in-residence, Sergio Barer. The Chorale is directed by Charlie Kim, a southern California native and piano virtuoso, who is an accomplished vocalist, conductor, and teacher, as well as a member of the world-renowned Los Angeles Master Chorale. (See sfvmc.com/director).

ABOUT THE SAN FERNANDO VALLEY MASTER CHORALE

The San Fernando Valley Master Chorale is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit performance organization for choral singers representing the San Fernando Valley and surrounding areas. Its mission is to foster community engagement and pride through quality performances of chorale masterworks on a large scale and to be a beacon of the highest level of musicianship for audience and performers alike. In addition to local venues such as the Madrid Theater, Valley Performing Arts Center (CSUN) and Thousand Oaks Civic Arts Plaza, the past several years have seen the Chorale performing at Carnegie Hall and Avery Fisher Hall in New York, and at the Dorothy Chandler Pavilion and John Anson Ford Amphitheatre in Los Angeles.
