

P Pan and Beyondland

FRINGEARTS

Play Casting from LGBTQ+ Community Only

“P Pan and Beyondland” is a retelling of the Peter Pan story. P Pan is one of the Polly Pandora who offers sanctuary on Beyondland to children of the world who are threatened by physical or psychological abuse. P Pan is a non-binary identifying manifestation of the Polly Pandora. Krystal and Kyle are a pair of twins who have been quietly questioning their gender identities. At school, a pair of boys, Harry and Jamie, are discovered kissing. The boys are publicly humiliated and beaten up. This incident prompts Krystal and Kyle to take P Pan up on an offer of sanctuary on Beyondland. Krystal, Kyle, and Jamie go with P Pan to Beyondland, where they are accepted and where the children take on different gender identities than the ones they were allowed to have in the “normal” world. Krystal becomes Kay, Kyle becomes Kyla, and Jamie openly identifies as gay.

Send Resume and Video Submission to texgirl777@yahoo.com

or krmurphey@comcast.net

Rehearsals (weekly) will be over the summer on a schedule and location to be determined.

P Pan and Beyondland will be performed as part of the Philly Fringe Arts Festival (September 6-22, 2018) (<http://fringearts.com/all-presentations/fringefestival/>).

P Pan and Beyondland performances will be Saturday September 15 (1, 4, and 8 PM) and Sunday September 16 (2 and 6 PM) at the German Society of Pennsylvania (611 Spring Garden Street, Philadelphia) in the Joseph P. Horner Memorial Library (<http://www.germansociety.org/horner-library/>).