OPEN AUDITIONS

A young man spends sleepless nights recollecting his life through the lens of poetry and his cynical friend Death.

Director's note

This film is a collection of 8 poems I wrote to process my thoughts. They were written over the span of 5 years during a rough time in my life and this film is a final closure and completion to that time in my life.

LIFE: Male 20-30

A Depressed, lonely introvert who would rather stay in with his annoying friend than go outside and experience anything from the outside world.

DEATH: Male/female 20-30

Narcissistic bleak individual who points out the flaws of life and attempts to push him out of his comfort zone as well free himself from the trauma bond of life.
